

23/09/2011
Online

Education-entreprises
Courrier des écoles de commerce et de gestion

PARIS, 23 sept 2011 (AFP) –
Courrier des écoles de commerce et de gestion:

Prospection - Quatre des plus importantes écoles de gestion asiatiques ont allié leurs forces pour la deuxième année consécutive, afin de recruter les meilleurs candidats européens pour leurs MBA. La Nanyang Business School de Singapour, l'Indian School of Business (ISB) d'Hyderâbâd, la HKUST Business School de Hong Kong et la China Europe International Business School (CEIBS) de Shanghai, vont participer en octobre au QS World MBA tour, la plus importante tournée de recrutement d'étudiants en "business schools". Leur principal argument sont des frais de scolarité qui peuvent être jusqu'à deux fois moins chers que les programmes équivalents aux Etats-Unis

Translation :

Education-Business

E-business schools and management

PARIS, September 23, 2011 (AFP) -

E-business schools and management:

Prospecting - Four of the largest business schools in Asia have joined forces for the second consecutive year, to recruit European best candidates for their MBA. The Nanyang Business School of Singapore, the Indian School of Business (ISB) in Hyderabad, the HKUST Business School Hong Kong and China Europe International Business School (CEIBS) in Shanghai, will participate in October in QS World MBA Tour, the largest tour to recruit students "business schools". Their main argument is that tuition fees can be up to two times cheaper than equivalent programs United States